

Gerrit, the miller (Gerrit Fullewever), bought this house from Jan Jansen Schepmoes, the deed passing February 10, 1650. No doubt, he was in possession in July, 1647, the date of a deposition which mentions his tavern.—Cal. Hist. MSS., Dutch, 38. The house was built before March, 1645, when Gerrit Douman leased it.—Ibid., 32. Its garden stretched along the Great Highway more than one hundred feet. The house lots Nos. 6 and 7 were a part of it.

Fullewever was still living here in 1677.—M. C. C., I: 53. The date of his death has not been ascertained. On August 22, 1683, his widow, Barentje Hendricks, married the well-known Domine Gideon Schaats, who had lately moved to New Amsterdam from Albany.—Marriages in Ref. Dutch Ch., 53. She left the house to him by will dated October 27, 1688. He sold it, in 1692, to Sieur William Teller.—Liber Deeds, XXIII: 320.

Lots Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 formed the site of the Standard Oil Building, No. 26 Broadway.
